

President Roosevelt to Wage a 'Different' Kind Of Campaign This Time

Capital Hears More Third Term Criticism And Threats of Desertion; Vice President Maintains Resolute Silence

Washington, July 20—(AP)—This year, the campaign is going to be "different."

Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican presidential nominee, may follow the traditional routine and stump the country. But Franklin D. Roosevelt, on the basis of present plans, will divide most of his time this summer and fall between Washington and his Hyde Park, N. Y., home.

And what the chief executive has to say to the voters will be transmitted, according to existing schedules, more through the press and radio than from the rear platform of a campaign train or in public auditoriums.

Much as Mr. Roosevelt likes to travel, he told the Democratic convention in his speech accepting a third term nomination that "the president in these days" must "remain close to the seat of government."

Garner Is Silent

As to the chief executive's acceptance, Vice-President Garner maintained resolute silence. From other quarters, however, there came continued third term criticism, predictions of Democratic bolts to Willkie, and also assertions that the third term issue would be unimportant.

International affairs and the preparedness program, Mr. Roosevelt said, made it necessary for him to remain near Washington, and hence the approaching campaign would be "different" in some respects from the "usual national campaigns of recent years."

The development of the vast defense program might offer the president an excuse to make some inspection trips to defense installations and projects. But some of his associates said he had no plans for any.

Much Time at Hyde Park

Officials expect the president to spend an increasingly greater portion of his time this summer at Hyde Park, where he could call in the people he wanted to see for defense or foreign affairs conferences and still get back to Washington in six or seven hours by train, if necessary.

And, as it is shaping up at the moment, the chief executive's campaign, like his third-term acceptance speech, will be tied closely with the strengthening of America's defenses.

In such a campaign, Democratic leaders said, that a large share of efforts to build strength for the Democratic ticket would have to be left to state and local party leaders.

LETTER CARRIERS WISH FARLEY LUCK

Rockford, Ill., July 20—(AP)—A resolution conveying to Postmaster General James A. Farley "all the success in the world in his new venture" was to be presented today at the annual convention of the Illinois Rural Letter Carriers' association.

The resolution lauding the postmaster general was prepared yesterday after Farley announced in Chicago that he would retire as National Democratic chairman within a month and accept an "attractive" offer in private business—presumably the presidency of the New York Yankees baseball club. The resolution added that "we feel sure the Yanks will always win under his leadership."

Several other resolutions were to be brought before the final session of the convention. These included one which favored optional retirement of rural letter carriers after 30 years of service; another urged liberalizing of annuity provisions to include widow and descendants of retired and active carriers, and a third proposed establishing a civil service court of appeals.

The officer of president was to be taken over by Clyde R. Miller of Mount Carmel, incumbent vice president, who was elevated to the office automatically when no other candidates were nominated. Springfield was selected as the 1941 convention city.

Four candidates—William Mabee of Rockford, Alva Stauffer of Siloam, Fred Tinker of Oakwaka and Roy Vannerman of Lexington—were nominated for vice president, while Secretary Roy L. Cozine of Lewistown will be opposed by Glen Faulkner of Mokena, Vernon Brown of Mattoon is unopposed for election as treasurer.

PASSEAU IS FINED

New York, July 20—(AP)—Claude Passeau, Chicago pitcher, was fined $75 and Joe Gallagher, Brooklyn outfielder, $50 by President Ford Frick of the National League today for causing a disturbance in yesterday's Cubs-Dodgers game at Chicago.

ROBERT E. FULTON ENDS 52 YEARS IN NEWSPAPER WORK

Dixon Telegraph Worker Can Trace Expansion Of Organization

More than half a century of service with the Dixon Evening Telegraph ended in retirement today for Robert E. Fulton of 324 North Galena avenue. Altogether, Mr. Fulton has spent 52 years in the service of this newspaper, working first as a carrier and later as "general carrier" and circulator, until transfer to the advertising department in 1934.

Late in the year 1883, at the age of 12 years, he learned from his brother, William Fulton, that the Dixon Telegraph weekly was to begin publication of a daily newspaper. He "played hooky" from school to ask for a job as carrier for the new paper, (at first a morning publication), and to obtain additional subscribers. He went to his mother's grocer, J. H. Morrison, for help in preparing a book in which to keep his accounts.

Becomes "General Carrier"

When need for a "general carrier" arose in 1888, young Fulton—consistent winner of prizes and awards in subscription contests—was the applicant selected for the position. As "general carrier," his duties were varied, ranging from covering city council meetings and patriotic programs to proof reading.

From March 5, 1888, until Jan. 1 of the following year, the paper's city circulation list grew from 320 city subscribers to 800. About this time, the veteran employee recalls, the city itself began a rapid growth, with new brick buildings replacing wooden structures, concrete sidewalks succeeding those of crude planks, and wooden awnings and hitching

Telegraph Item Helps Apprehend Alleged Robbers

A news item in last evening's issue of The Telegraph reporting the robbery of the Leroy Schnell farm residence on U. S. route 30 Thursday afternoon during the absence of the family, resulted in apprehension of the robbers yesterday through an unusual circumstance. A truck driver who stopped in Dixon last evening for lunch, read the item and immediately communicated with the sheriff's office.

Driving west on U. S. route 30 yesterday afternoon, a farmer armed with a shot gun, stopped the truck driver and asked him to assist in apprehending two Negro youths. The driver joined the hunt and the strangers were captured and then turned over to a deputy from the Kane county sheriff's office at Geneva who was summoned by the farmer.

This information was furnished the local sheriff's office, and communicating with the Kane county sheriff, it was learned that the pair were being held pending investigation.

Informed of the robbery at the Schnell farm the Negroes were questioned and confessed the stolen wrist watch and some of the clothing having been found in their possession, according to the report. They gave the names of William Terry and Andrew Davis, both 18 years of age and living in Chicago. Sheriff Gilbert Finch was obtaining warrants today and expected to return them to Dixon this afternoon to answer to charges of robbery.

Cars Damaged in Crash Near Polo Last Night

(Telegraph Special Service)

Polo, July 20—Cars driven by N. F. Richardson, 61, of Dixon and E. A. Marcussen, 51, of Dayton, Ia., were damaged slightly in an accident three miles south of here on route 52 last night about 6:15. Mr. Richardson, accompanied by his wife, was traveling south and collided with the north-bound automobile. Officer Lester Cupp investigated the accident.

President Signs Measure to Give United States a "Two-Ocean" Fleet

Washington, July 20—(AP)—President Roosevelt has signed into law a bill authorizing a $460,000,000 expansion of the navy designed to give the United States a "two ocean" fleet capable of meeting any possible hostile combination.

The White House announced the signing today, while Mr. Roosevelt was cruising on the Potomac river.

The chief executive already had asked congress to provide $83,000,000 to start work on the new program, which when completed

Retires Today

Robert E. Fulton, veteran employee of The Dixon Evening Telegraph, is retiring after 52 years of service. He became associated with this newspaper as a carrier in 1888, at the age of 12.

BANK ROBBER IS NABBED IN CHURCH AFTER GUN CHASE

Captured Man Refuses To Name His Partner Who Escaped

St. Joseph, Mo., July 20—(AP)—Ivan Sullivan, 29, fugitive from the Fort Madison, Ia., penitentiary, and suspect in the $5,000 robbery of the Diller, Neb., state bank, was captured today by two Missouri highway patrolmen three miles east of Atchison, Kan.

There he earlier had eluded officers after a gun battle. Sullivan, walking on the highway, was overtaken by the highway patrolmen. He was armed with an automatic pistol, but offered no resistance. He was carrying $1,956 in a money belt.

Marysville, Kas., July 20—(AP)—A chase by 150 citizens, in which more than 20 shots were fired, ended with the wounding and capture of one of two escaped convicts in a church a few hours after they had robbed the Diller, Neb., State bank of $5,000.

The wounded bandit's companion escaped. He kidnaped two persons and commandeered two automobiles in his panic-stricken flight.

The captured man, Lowell Haenze, 27, of Sleepy Eye, Minn., told Tom Blodgett, city marshal, that he escaped with two companions from the Fort Madison, Ia., penitentiary June 22. His fellow fugitives are Ivan Sullivan, 29, Trenton, Mo., and Forrest Estes, 35, Mountain Home, Ark.

Haenze refused to name his companion who escaped. Leo Schramm, assistant city marshal, said he admitted, however, that he participated in the Diller bank robbery. He had $1,800 in his pockets. A suitcase abandoned by the bandits was said by Blodgett to contain a "large amount of currency" believed to have been taken in the Diller holdup.

The robbers were surprised by

Only a Week Left For Dixon Youths to Get Into Aviation School

Youths of Dixon and vicinity have but one week to enroll in the non-college civil pilots training course which the U. S. government proposes to establish in Dixon. Enrollment must be made by next Saturday, one week from today.

This course offers a 72-hour training in ground school, which will be held at the Dixon High school and from 35 to 50 hours in flight training. It is a splendid opportunity to any young man who wants to learn aviation.

At least 50 students are needed to fill the class and prompt action is extremely necessary.

If sufficient interest is displayed by the community there is every reason to believe that the school here will be further developed by the federal government.

Dixon Boy Falls Three Stories; Breaks Ankle

William Burgess, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Burgess, 16 North Galena avenue, fell from a scaffold at the top of the third floor of the apartment building under construction on North Ottawa avenue Thursday evening and sustained a fracture of a bone in the ankle of his left foot. The youngster was walking along the plank on the high scaffolding when he stepped on a mortar board, which tipped, throwing him to the ground. He landed on his feet and while considerably shaken up, fortunately escaped without more serious injury.

CONGRESS TAKES FDR TIP AND MAY STAY IN SESSION

Lawmakers to Campaign From Their Desks by Remote Control

Washington, July 19—(AP)—Taking their cue from President Roosevelt, most members of Congress talked today of combining a national political campaign with a continuous session of Congress.

"I pity anybody who proposes to adjourn with the present temper of the country," said Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.).

From the Democratic ranks, Senator George (D-Ga.) predicted that the pending "excess profits" tax proposal, compulsory military training, and an assortment of defense measures would keep legislative machinery busy for many weeks.

With both major political conventions out of the way, Congress will re-assemble Monday after nearly a month of slight activity.

On the Senate side, Democratic leader Barkley (D-Ky.) and Republican Leader McNary (R-Ore.) had a "gentlemen's agreement" that no important legislation would be acted upon next week.

Many Details to Handle

McNary, the Republican candidate for vice-president, has scores of personal details to handle while Barkley, along with many other Democrats, needs a few days to recuperate from the Chicago convention.

Previous to the conventions Democratic Leader Barkley pressed unsuccessfully—and apparently with White House approval for a speedy adjournment of Congress.

Opponents of the program pointed today to President Roosevelt's speech accepting the Democratic nomination for a third term when he spoke of "the added task which present crisis has imposed upon the Congress, compelling them to forego their usual adjournment."

Inasmuch as President Roosevelt announced that he would stay close to his job here in Washington during the political campaign, many members of the House and Senate said they would adopt this same strategy for their own reelection drives.

Fourteen Patients of State Hospital Make Escape; Six Returned

Male patients in one of the wards at the Dixon state hospital, made a successful break for liberty and escaped last evening. A total of 14 male patients were reported to have escaped from the institution Friday, one group of 11 making a break from one of the wards about 9 o'clock last night. Several days ago a group of 17 escaped from the institution in one day.

Five Negroes were taken in custody by Sheriff Finch and Deputy Bates this morning near Eldena when farmers in that locality reported the strangers were begging food. One of the escaped inmates was captured by the police during the night and the six were returned to the institution.

Three Negro patients who have been in custody at the county jail for a period of about two weeks, awaiting action which would result in their transfer to Chester or Manteno, were to be returned to the local institution today, it was stated at the sheriff's office.

England Spurns Hitler's Final Appeal As Nation Fights Off Big Air Raid

Bombs Dropped on Several British Towns In Today's Attack; German Sea Raider Is Reported at Large in Western Atlantic

London, July 20—(AP)—Britain ignored Adolf Hitler's "final appeal" for peace on his own terms today and indicated she is ready for a test of strength, undaunted by nazi threats driven home by one of the worst air-raids of the war.

A scornful silence was the government's answer to the German dictator, who yesterday gave England the choice of coming to terms or facing "total destruction."

It was intimated Prime Minister Churchill might have some comment to make Tuesday in the House of Commons but official circles pointed out that he had emphasized only last Sunday Britain's determination to fight on to a finish and they declared Hitler's "offer" scarcely merited an answer.

The press and public were more vocal in their reaction to the fuhrer's speech, which was viewed in many quarters as nothing more than an effort to drive a wedge between Churchill and the people.

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Hitler's peace-speech leaves the situation just where it was unless the British government sues for terms—something which Premier Churchill never would happen.

This being the case Europe must endure a conflict which, as Hitler says, "can end only with the complete annihilation of one or the other of the two adversaries."

Well, that's what this war started out to be—a fight to a finish between Germany and England—and that's likely to be the way it winds up.

The nazi chieftain says he knows that this "will bring upon the people unending suffering and misery" but that he has relieved his "conscience towards the things that will then come—that is, if this last appeal to reason is unheeded by England."

The reichstag speech also was intended as a tonic for the German people. Win or lose, I think they have hard times ahead of them.

Italy Says Nazi Attack on British Is Matter of Days

(By the Associated Press)

Rome, July 20—Italy today acknowledged loss of the cruiser Bartolomeo Colleoni but claiming the sinking of a British warship in a three-hour naval battle in the middle Mediterranean yesterday.

At the same time she declared that Germany's attack on Britain was only "a question of days."

This word came from the authoritative Fascist weekly Rivista Internazionale, which described Nazi air-raids against England as merely a preliminary to a great naval operation.

"A certain time is necessary for extending military operation over English territory," the weekly said. "The English may be more clever on defense than on attack x x x but this is a war of constant offensives, in which the initiative always is Germany's privilege."

The weekly said reconstruction of Europe would be begun by Adolf Hitler and Premier Mussolini alone only after "absolute and complete victory."

The Balkan countries, particularly Yugoslavia, were warned that they would have to realize there is a new European order in which the Rome-Berlin axis "is not inclined to tolerate" outmoded "mentalities and ideas."

Italians have objected to the way Yugoslav newspapers accepted British versions of the July 8 naval battle in the Mediterranean.

Spokesman for Sugar Industry Joins in Revolt Against Candidate Wallace

New Orleans, La., July 20—(AP)—A spokesman for Louisiana's $150,000,000 sugar industry joined the state's national Democratic delegates and its "reform" governor today in a revolt against Secretary Wallace as the Democratic vice presidential candidate.

Charles A. Farwell, spokesman for the American Sugar Cane League and a lifelong Democrat, pinned on a "Willkie for President" button, protesting that

But besides this, I can't escape the feeling that Hitler would give much if he could obtain peace at this time. Of course, it would be on his terms, but he could afford to make heavy concessions to Britain if he could keep his present conquests without having to fight further to hold them.

He says he is going to win, and he certainly has a right to a great degree of confidence. The odds perhaps are in his favor.

In undertaking to invade England (if he does) he will be essaying a feat which would appall the average military leader. He is, as Prime Minister Churchill has said, coming up against a much bigger proposition than he has heretofore encountered on the battlefield. Some neutral observers concede Britain a fighting chance to win.

Herr Hitler knows that if he doesn't defeat his enemy quickly, and the war is drawn out, Germany stands a big chance to lose because of severance from essential supplies by the British blockade.

SPECIAL PLANES ARRIVE HERE FOR LEGION AIR SHOW

One is Art Davis' Race Craft Which Won at Cleveland Events

Four of the specially built racing planes which will participate in the American Legion air show at the Dixon Municipal airport Sunday, July 28, have arrived at the field and are now housed in the hangar. Among these is Art Davis' racing plane with which he won the Cleveland national air meet last fall.

The Davis speed plane arrived from Minneapolis, where it was featured in a week end air show last week. The fragile ship is hauled on a specially built platform behind an automobile, the wings being detached and folded along side of the fuselage. It requires but 15 minutes for Davis and his mechanic to assemble the plane for participation in the racing program.

Residents of Dixon and several surrounding towns will have an opportunity to view the record breaking speed plane next week when it will be assembled and placed on the tender of the Forty-and-Eight locomotive and taken on an exhibition trip, where stops will be made at several places. The plane cannot be flown from field to field because of its fragile construction and the speed attained by its motor, which necessitates its being dismantled and hauled overland. Davis was in Dixon the first of the week and

Carry Texts of Speech

Hitler's assertion that the British people were being led astray by their leaders in continuing the war was heard by the public by radio and was read in the press, which carried full texts of the speech.

As though to emphasize Hitler's threats German warplanes struck at southeast and southwest Scotland and southwest England early this morning continuing a series of raids which yesterday produced one of the greatest aerial battles of the war.

Bombs were dropped on several towns in today's raids and at one point a German plane was reported to have machine-gunned civilians on a railway platform. The air ministry said a number of houses had been destroyed and reported "some casualties" but no deaths.

Two of the raiders were offi-

"Offer" is Omitted

London, July 20—(AP)—The London Sketch, in its "Inside Information" column, said today that one of the things Adolf Hitler failed to mention in his speech was a "fantastic plan to 'offer' Canada to the United States which Ribbentrop (German foreign minister) conceived and is having circulated tentatively in Washington."

The paper added that by this plan, which it said had been communicated to leading propagandists in the United States, "Hitler will give a solemn pledge not to interfere in the Americas after he has 'finished' with Britain. As proof of his sincerity, he would agree to the incorporation of Canada."

Ten German planes were shot down yesterday when 30 British fighters engaged an enemy formation of 120 aircraft over the channel and three others were downed by anti-aircraft fire.

LATVIA'S REGIME OUSTS PRESIDENT

Stockholm, July 20—(AP)—Latvia's new Communist regime decreed today the removal of President Karl Ulmanis, who helped write the country's declaration of independence in 1918.

The presidential functions henceforth will be administered by Prime Minister Kirchenstein, little-known 68-year-old former veterinarian and lecturer on bacteriology.

Ulmanis, 62, an agriculturist educated in the United States at the University of Nebraska, consolidated his power as dictator in 1934 by an army coup.

The decree, nullifying the President's office, was published on the eve of the convening of the new communist parliament which, like those of Estonia and Lithuania also meeting tomorrow, is expected to vote for union with Soviet Russia.

Flees the Country

Lithuania's President Smetona fled the country and was interned in Germany when Soviet Russia occupied the country, and President Paets of Estonia is expected to be dismissed.

Giant street parades will mark the assembling of the new parliaments tomorrow. A Swedish press dispatch said that 60,000 Soviet flags were ordered for Riga alone.

Ulmanis entered politics when he was 22, organizing agricultural

Wrought Iron Hardware Finds Place in Home

Wrought-iron hardware continues to find a place in the modern home.

First used in the east in Colonial homes, the earlier designs were wrought by English craftsmen. As a result, hinges, door handles, and other metal which went into the home reflected the English tradition. In Florida and the southwest the Spanish influence was noticeable, and wrought-iron designs had different characteristics.

Either of these Colonial designs may be used in modern homes where they harmonize with English or Spanish precedent. The two types should not be confused by the home owner. When properly related, wrought-iron hardware adds interesting detail to the home. In modernization of existing homes, reproductions of these early designs of wrought iron may be installed with funds obtained from qualified lending institution under the Modernization Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

Attractive Color Effects Obtained With Unusual Roof

A process which deposits a layer of cork on the underside of asphalt shingles has been perfected. These shingles combine weather protection and roof insulation in one unit which can be applied at one labor cost. They have an outer surface of durable granulated slate that is fire-retarding and weather-proof; and the under surface of cork is said to keep the home cooler in summer and warmer in winter, with resulting saving in fuel costs.

These shingles have the further advantage of attractive appearance. Being extra thick, they cast deep shadow lines and are manufactured in several colors which can be used singly or in combination to produce practically any desired color effect.

WHAT ADDS MORE TO A ROOM THAN A FIREPLACE

Instilled with the charm of the open fire, and memories, perhaps, of your great grandparents, whose life centered around the fireplace during pioneer days, such a setting in your living room will add many hours of contentment. Back of the pleasant fireplace you see is a modern invention that draws cold air from the room and circulates heat from the fireplace through registers on the walls. Warmth is sufficient to offset cold, damp days in the spring and fall.

Planning Avoids Waste In Home Painting

Observance of a few simple rules will go a long way in the elimination of waste of time, labor and materials.

Approximation of the surface to be covered and the color desired is the first thing to determine. If the woodwork is new and it is an interior job, the surface should be cut smooth with sandpaper and dusted clean. Then the priming coat should be applied. If it is old woodwork and shows cracking, checking, or scaling, the surface should be stripped with a good paint and varnish remover, and cleaned with benzine or turpentine. If the wood is greasy or coated with wax, this should be scrubbed off with benzine or turpentine.

The next step is to putty all nail holes, cracks, and other defects. This is done after the priming coat has dried. Then apply a semi-finishing or second coat of paint (sometimes flat) allowing it to dry thoroughly before application of a third or finishing coat. If a gloss finish is wanted, the finishing coat should be enamel. When the color is to be other than white, both finishing coats should be tinted.

Wider Doorways Into Hall Advised

A feeling of spaciousness may be created through use of a wide doorway connecting the front hall and living room.

The use of lever door knobs and other attractive door hardware adds to the effect which frequently changes the appearance of the home. The owner who contemplates the widening of a narrow doorway should first assure himself that wall framing supporting the door above is amply strong to do its duty after some of it has been removed.

In some cases it may be necessary to substitute two stouter timbers at the sides of the opening for the studding which now carries the weight of the second-story flooring and wall, as well as a heavier horizontal member to extend across the heavier up-rights.

Exterior Lighting Is Safety Factor
Proper exterior lighting on the house contributes to safety as well as to comfort and convenience. Overhead lights on the side of the house next to the driveway and over garage doors prevent bad stumbles over carelessly parked bicycles, scooters, roller skates and garden tools which were not put away. A well-lighted driveway offers an added advantage: it discourages prowlers.

Two Families Meet at Rochelle Park

The fourth annual McWilliams-McDowell reunion was attended by 75 Sunday at Memorial park in Rochelle. A picnic dinner was served at noon in the pavilion, and lunch of cake, coffee and ice cream was served in the afternoon.

Visiting, games, posing for pictures, and a review of the family's genealogy charts prepared by Clarence McDowell of Chicago, president of the association, provided varied pastime for the occasion. At the business meeting, the following officers were elected:

President, Clarence McDowell, Chicago; honorary president, William McDowell, Chicago; secretary and historian, Mrs. J. M. Keay, Amboy; treasurer, Mrs. Nellie Linn, Chicago; foods chairman, Mrs. Charles Parker, Sr., Franklin Grove; locations chairman, Herman Kunde, Rochelle; chairman of sports and prizes, Randall McDowell, Chicago.

William McDowell of Chicago was the oldest present; James Emerson Ferguson of Ottawa, seven months, was the youngest. The largest family present was that of Walter J. Parker of Dixon, and those traveling the farthest distance to attend were Mrs. Nellie Linn and daughter Virginia of Chicago, who came from Rolling Prairie, Ind., their summer home.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parker, Sr., Franklin Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kunde and two sons, Rochelle; Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Parker and family, Dixon; Mr. and Mrs. William Dietz and Doris and Dick Parker, Harmon; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Parker and Mrs. Blanche Hawthorne, Rochelle; Mr. and Mrs. Marion Glaska and family, Mrs. Mabel Glaska, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Parker and family, Walnut; Mr. and Mrs. James McDowell, Eldena; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Keay and nephew, Allyn Parlow, Jr., Amboy.

Also guests from Chicago, Plainfield, Rock Falls, Blue Island, Marseilles, and Ottawa.

EDWARD HOWELLS ARE ARRIVING FOR DIXON VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howells and their son, of Wilmington, Del., are due to arrive in Dixon tomorrow for a ten-day visit with Mr. Howells' mother, Mrs. E. N. Howells, and other relatives.

On Tuesday evening, the Hubert Howells will be hosting at dinner at Lowell Park Lodge, in compliment to the visitors. A boat ride on the Rock river is also included in the party plans.

Guests at the dinner will include Mrs. E. N. Howells, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Ferguson, Mrs. Ira Lanphier and son Edward, George Howells, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Tyler and son George, and the Edward Howells.

SCHULERS ARE DINNER HOSTS

The Dement Schulers of East Boyd street were hosting at dinner Wednesday evening for 22 relatives, complimenting a trio of visitors from New York State, Mr. and Mrs. William Housel and Mrs. Anna Horning, William Thompson, members of the Morris family, and Miss Jennie Laing were included on the guest list.

The visitors, who have been entertained at the home of Mrs. William Morris and Miss Jennie Laing, left Thursday for the east.

Polo Pair Plans Sunday Bridal

Miss Dorothy Keckler, eldest daughter of the Ralph Kecklers of Polo, and Russell E. Scholl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Scholl of near Polo, will exchange nuptial vows tomorrow afternoon before the altar of the East Jordan church. The Rev. Lawrence Main will pronounce the ceremony at 2 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Miller of Sterling will be the couple's only attendants. Mrs. Miller is an aunt of the bridegroom.

Miss Keckler will be attired in powder blue lace with a white picture hat and white accessories. Her shoulder corsage will contain white roses. Her matron of honor will be wearing navy sheer with matching accessories.

After the ceremony, Mr. Scholl and his bride will leave on a week's wedding trip to northern Wisconsin. For traveling, Miss Keckler has selected a navy and white ensemble.

After their return from the north, the couple will be at home in their newly-furnished apartment at the Arthur Scholl farm, four miles southwest of Polo.

Both Miss Keckler and Mr. Scholl were graduated from Polo Community high school, she with the class of '38, and he, with the class of the preceding year. She has been employed at the Polo store of the Atlantic and Pacific tea company.

MRS. LARRY JENKS IS COMPLIMENTED

Mrs. Marna Sandell arranged a tea room party last evening, complimenting a recent bride, Mrs. Larry Jenks, the former Miss Anne Newcomb. Gift packages for a personal shower were brought by the guests, and lunch was served.

Guests numbered Mrs. Helen Cecco, Mrs. Robert Tuttle, Mrs. Earl Black, Mrs. Frank Gates, and the Misses Helen Dulin, Imogene Greer, Helen Lennon, Dorothy Levan, Marylyn Crawford, and the honoree.

posts giving way to a general trend toward progress and achievement.

Founding of the C. M. Henderson shoe factory and the Anglo-Swiss Condensed Milk company brought scores of new families to town—all prospective patrons for the Telegraph subscription lists.

The original office was located on Water street, in a structure which preceded the Rodesch building. For a number of years, all type was set by hand, and Mr. Fulton remembers that it was "a sad day when the first linotype replaced half a dozen girl employees." Likewise, carrier boys were required to fold their own papers, which were printed on a hand-fed press. (The Telegraph's present 24-page Duplex press is the sixth press he has seen in this plant since his first association with printer's ink.)

Bicycle Delivery

On occasions when the paper was late in going to press, after establishment of Lee county's first rural route, the ambitious young circulator made the trip by bicycle to the homes of his 35 patrons scattered throughout Palmyra township. "I wore out three bicycles in all," he says.

Among Mr. Fulton's most treasured souvenirs of his long association with the Telegraph are a copy of the paper's Semi-Centennial edition of May 1, 1851, another early copy, dated Dec. 29, 1888, and programs for carriers' parties held on New Year's Day from 1889 to 1892.

From the Farewell Address.

Mexico Chooses
Mexico votes, and several scores of people lie dead and wounded.
"Shocking!" say the thin-skinned, conveniently forgetting the 10 dead and 100 wounded who lay on the ground in Chicago on Memorial Day, 1937, when the United States also had failed to adjust a controversy without violence.
It is not to be denied that the Mexican election was a violent and rowdy affair, falling far short of textbook democracy. The votes are yet to be counted. It remains to be seen whether the candidates and their followers will abide by the announced result. Probably until September there will be more or less disorder in the southern republic.

But initial shock at this rough-and-tumble election ought not to blind us to something very significant.
That is the fact that nearly five million people are believed to have voted. No such widespread expression of the popular will has been seen in Mexico for many years. Whether that is now to be translated into an orderly change of administration remains to be seen. But there seems now an excellent chance of it.

In the very disorder itself there is evidence of a certain vitality. Mexico could have had an "orderly election." It has had them in the recent past. By turning out the army and placing a squad of soldiers at each polling-place, President Cardenas could have kept complete order. But he deliberately chose not to do that. If he had done so the opposition would immediately have charged intimidation of its supporters, and with some reason for in Mexico the army is a big factor in party politics on the administration side.

So President Cardenas deliberately permitted not only greater latitude in campaigning than an opposition party has had in Mexico in 20 years, but deliberately held back military domination of the election, though it was clear that there would be considerable disorder.

Remains now to be seen whether the defeated candidate will abide by the announced decision. Already there are charges that the election, for one reason and another, was not fairly conducted. There have been such charges, and with excellent reason, even in Kansas City and Philadelphia.
When the count is completed, the test will come. It is not only necessary to have elections. It is necessary that they be fair, and that the defeated as well as the victors abide by the result.
If Mexico can achieve this, the whole western world will have reason to be proud. From Hudson Bay to Patagonia millions of eyes are on Mexico, and in them are mingled anxiety and hope.

Our Precocious Pupils
It is hard even for Americans in this hard-boiled world of 1940 to realize how very soft-boiled we were in 1900.
Boy, did we have illusions! The war with Spain was just over, and the army was up to the hips in the unpleasant task of "pacifying" the Philippines. "Underneath the starry flag, civilize 'em with a Krag!" was a popular song among soldiers, who, waist-deep in Philippine jungles, had fewer illusions than the folks back home.

Today's cynicism attributes the American adventures in the Philippines and in Cuba to pure financial imperialism. Perhaps that entered into the picture, but there was much more to it than that.
People in general felt that in the American form of government and in the American social system they had something precious, the very last word in how to live. They wanted to share it, to evangelize. They wanted, sincerely wanted, to lift up the "little brown brothers" to our own exalted level. They spent money like water to build schools, and American girls went out to Luzon to teach little Tagalog kids the multiplication table. Earnest Americans in white suits sweated over problems of sanitation and administration.

All this was fine enough, and we have nothing to regret. We meant well.
But alas, nothing is more futile than to expect one people to put on and wear without alteration a suit of governmental clothes cut for somebody else. It never works, as Herr Hitler is apt to find out some of these days.

What do we have, 40 years later? We have President Manuel Quezon of the Philippine Commonwealth pointing out that he favors a new type of democracy where in individual liberties are curtailed and the two-party system is abandoned. Old concepts of personal and property rights must yield to the demands of social justice, says Quezon.

And in Cuba we find a former army sergeant who rose to power by insurrection just becoming the legitimate president under a new constitution far more "socialized" than our own, and owing his elevation to a strange alliance of Communists, assorted left-wingers, and the remainder of the notorious old Machado dictatorial machine. Nobody, even in Cuba, understands very exactly just what this means.

None of this is said critically. Perhaps both Quezon and Batista have adopted precisely the sort of government their countries need at the moment. At this distance we can't be sure. Which is exactly the point.

We are just as sure as we were 40 years ago that the American republic is the government for us. But we aren't quite so sure that it is therefore best for everybody else.

News Behind THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)
Chicago, July 19 — The inside story of this Democratic convention is simply told:
Mr. Roosevelt was unable to unify the Democratic party behind the third term, so he took over its machinery to form what can only be called the Roosevelt third term party.

Hull refused to take the vice-presidency. The president refused to take Garner again. F. D. R. found that such a party stranger as Douglas would be too much for the convention to accept. The Garner people did not want their friend Jesse Jones in it. So there was no one left but the agricultural member of the cabinet, Henry Wallace.

Farley, the party man was crowded out by his principles. All his friends, noting the handwriting on the wall, practically stopped work at the convention. No truly adequate replacement for him could be found. So FDR had to make the second best of that, too. He had to rely solely upon his most devoted friends, to whom there is no principle except Roosevelt, and the opportunists among the politicians who were more anxious for national protection and favors than anything else.

The strict Democratic party men (not alone the conservatives) sat down.

In some ways it looks like a new Farmer-Labor party, a national uprising vaguely suggestive of the labor party's rise in England. It might grow into that, if successful. Certainly, there would be no reason for Mr. Roosevelt to consider any other viewpoint than his own in a third term. He has left no one in his party with whom he would have to compromise, or even consult. He had shed himself of restraints.

The Farmer-Labor strain does not however run either deep or wholly true in the new regime. Wallace does not bring into the organization any farm influence that Roosevelt did not have before (American Farm Bureau Federation particularly). It does not imply any new farm action. The president may have acquired John Lewis by platform bargaining at this convention, but he already had Lewis' C.O. organization with him all along (Murray, Kennedy, Hillman, and the rank and file). What will come out of that in the way of future stronger labor action by the government can not even be guessed now.

So, in the last analysis, while the Wallace and Lewis viewpoints have been pushed further up front to the chairs vacated by the Democratic leaders, they are not bringing him any fresh political strength. There are no more new chairs in the board of management.

Actually Roosevelt has, therefore, come out of the convention with less strength than he had when he went in. He has only made his new party exclusive.

Wallace, a former Republican, is highly respected everywhere in politics for his honesty and sincerity, but not for his political judgment or his ability to handle congress (the job Garner did well for Roosevelt). Wallace's experience has been in other lines, and if he becomes president some day, he will be a wholly new type. His selection as the next best one to Hull was apparently predicated on the hope of offsetting the grim political visages of Hague and Kelly, and the choice of farmer Charles McNary by the Republicans.

News-men who pass their estimates of public men on to you are apt to become cynical occasionally. They see so much political insincerity they may sometimes see it where it does not exist. But I have never covered a national convention in the past twenty years where they were so unanimous in their cynicism as here.

From a technical standpoint it may be true the Hopkins-Kelly-Byrnes control managed the routine here fairly well for newcomers. They had excellent direction from Washington. They minimized their losses as much as possible by steaming up that sincere majority portion of the convention which worships Roosevelt as a bread and butter god.

But if there was a news-man here who was NOT dismayed and discouraged by the callous indifference to facts and common fairness, I did not meet him. Reporters generally do not ask that politicians be candid, but false speculations such as Mr. Roosevelt saying he did not wish to run in such a way that he would be drafted, was a little too much for most of them to enjoy.

Wisconsin adopted its present constitution in 1847.

Miss Colbert Is Not Showing Her Legs This Season
Hollywood, July 20—(AP)—This isn't the season—thank you just the same—when Miss Claudette Colbert is showing her legs.

Miss Colbert, blessed with a pair of the most attractive career stunts in this leg-conscious town, said "no" to the leg-art boys who came around just as they usually do when Miss Colbert starts a new picture. "Arise My Love" is a comedy of war adventure in which the heroine shares a number of love scenes (labeled "thrilling") with Ray Milland. For that kind of picture, the boys figured, a little gay eye-filling leg-art would be right in line.

But not Claudette. "I believe legs should be shown where there's a definite excuse for it," she argued. "On the other hand, if there is no excuse I can't see why a lady should advertise."

Mitchell Leisen, her director, in a cooperative gesture toward the leg-art boys, thumbed through the script but found no excuse for capitalizing on the Colbert shapeliness. There wasn't any scene for instance, like the one in "It Happened One Night" in which Claudette, showing Clark Gable how to hitch hike successfully, raised her skirts and her thumb simultaneously at a passing motorist. There has to be a good reason.

"And How?" she said. "I'm grateful for them. They're distinctly an asset." (Voice from the sidelines: "And how!")

But the "reasons" appear infrequently. "Boom Town" was reasonless, in the leg-art line, but "Zaza" was full of reason. A little dance number called the can-can wouldn't have been the can-can with the Colbert legs concealed.

"As Zaza, my legs were virtually part of the plot," said Claudette. "And there have been times in other stories, where I've had to wear tights. So I wore 'em."

"But having legs to show is exactly like being a skilled pianist, for example. If you're very good at that sort of thing and every time you see a piano you rush to it and sit down and play, you begin to get in people's hair. On the other hand, if you wait until the proper occasions, you'll be very much in demand. There's a place for everything."

"Arise My Love," said Miss Colbert firmly, isn't one of the places.

FANFARE

By DON DANIELSON.

SOFTBALL FEATURES TOMORROW NIGHT

In the softball feature games at the Airport tomorrow night, the Rock River Riders will meet the Mt. Morris club in the first game and the James Billiards all-stars will clash with the strong Maria's Cafe of Rockford in the nightcap. The Rockford team is reported to be the strongest in the city and has won nine straight games. Lefty Johnson who helped the all-stars defeat Janesville here last weekend with a one-hit game, will again be on the mound for the Dixon club.

V. F. W. TO OREGON

Members of the V. F. W. hardball team have been asked to meet at the Dixon Recreation at 1 o'clock tomorrow for transportation to Oregon where the locals are scheduled to play.

INCORPORATED

Articles for incorporation of the Rock River Riders Motorcycle club with headquarters at 95 Peoria avenue, have been granted at the office of the secretary of state at Springfield, it was announced today. The club is a non-profit corporation organized for social purpose. The incorporators are Arthur Rossiter, K. Buzzard, and E. Shippert, Jr.

JUNIOR AMERICAN LEGION TO PLAY SUNDAY

The Dixon Junior American Legion baseball team will play Walton in a morning game tomorrow starting at 11 o'clock. Members of the team have been asked to meet at the Legion hall at 10:30. A week from Sunday the Legion club will play Clinton, Ia., at Reynolds field here in a game scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock.

DOUBLEHEADER

The Dixon Knacks will play a doubleheader at West Brooklyn August 18, the day of the village's big chicken dinner at the church. West Brooklyn will play in the morning game and Dixon plays Maytown (a postponed league game) in the afternoon.

MT. MORRIS CARDINALS

The Mt. Morris Cardinals, who report they would like a game with the Dixon Knacks, will play tomorrow at the high school field with the Freeport ambler, a strong colored team. The game is scheduled to start at 2 o'clock and the field will be provided with comfortable bleachers.

LEE HERE TOMORROW; OTHER LEAGUE GAMES

Presenting several changes in the lineup the Dixon Knacks will meet the Lee club in an Illinois State league game here at Reynolds field starting at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon. The locals, still leading the league, will attempt to atone for the loss to Maytown last Sabbath by showing their true colors to the home fans in the second straight tilt on the home lot. In other league contests Amboy plays at Maytown, Shabbona at Steward and West Brooklyn at Walton.

MEETING AT PLUM HOLLOW

Members of Plum Hollow Country club met last night at the clubhouse, where Ken Lair and Larry Poole were chosen as co-chairmen of the sports committee for men and Lucille Stauffer was named the women's chairman. Plans for a two-ball mixed foursome for tomorrow were discussed and details arranged for tonight's dance at the clubhouse which is for members only. Eighteen holes will be played in the two-ball mixed foursome. Fred Davis was named to plan arrangements and set a date for a men's day later in the season. In the absence of Frank Randall, Ken Lair conducted the meeting.

Applying Drops From First to Fifth in Close Junior Loop Slugging

New York, July 20—(AP)—Just to give you an idea how tight the American League batting championship race is, consider the case of Luke Appling.

Last week he was tied for the lead with young Taft Wright with a mark of .356. This week his average is .346—but he's down in fifth place.

Leader this week is Barney McCosky of the Tigers by the narrowest of margins over Rip Radcliff of the Browns. McCosky is hitting at .3553 and Radcliff is at .3550. Wright, who led for two weeks, is in third place, tied with Lou Finney of Boston at .354.

The National League has no such troubles. Harry Danning, Giant catcher, continues to pace the field. His mark of .347 this week is a fraction better than it was last time the averages were compiled.

In second place is Merrill May of the Phillies, whose .331 gives him only a slim edge over the Cubs' hustling Bibby Nicholson, who has .326.

Games Monday Night

Bordens vs. Three Deuces.
High Life vs. United Cigar.

Keller's softball team trimmed Pitcher George Weigle's 17th birthday cake with an eight-inning victory over the Sparky club in the nightcap game at the Airport last night. With two out and two on bases Shortstop Mills clouted the hit that drove in the winning runs and Kellers nosed out a 9 to 8 triumph.

In the first game the Sinclair Oilers won a 19 to 10 victory over the I. N. U. boys who collapsed after a disastrous fifth inning.

The gas, light and power lads began the game with a newly-shifted lineup which had to be changed back to normal positions in the fifth frame. Ten errors by the utilities didn't help them much.

Frightening Fifth
Until the frightening fifth the game was fairly well balanced. The Oilers led off with three runs in the second inning on singles by Witzel and Benson, a walk and two errors. The I. N. U. took the lead with four runs in the second inning when three men walked and an error loaded the bases. George Lebre drove in the tying run with a triple to center field and scored himself on an infield play.

The utilities increased the lead in the third inning on singles by Cooper, Flanagan and Hasseberg, one error—all of which resulted in forcing in Herbie Cooper.

In the fourth the Oilers picked up two runs on two walks, an error and singles by Evans and Kieffer. Barnhart's triple to right field and Hasseberg's sacrifice fly counted for another I. N. U. run in the first of the fifth. In the last of the same inning the Oilers added six new runs on four bad errors, three walks and singles by Gehant, Trotter and Burkett.

Three More Runs
In the sixth the Oilers, having things much their own way with now counted three more runs without a hit on four walks and a sacrifice fly by Evans.

In the seventh the I. N. U. staged a rally which ended with three runs counted on singles by Withers and Lebre and a home run by Barnhart with one aboard. In the first of that frame the winners had scored five runs with five hits, a walk and three more errors. Gehant featured the inning with a home run with one man base. Singles were counted by Boyd, Evans, Trotter and Burkett.

Al Boyd was the winning mound and he allowed 10 hits, walked five and struck out two. In four and two-thirds innings Ken Hasseberg allowed nine hits, walked six and struck out four. In the remaining innings Barnhart allowed five hits, walked five and struck out one.

BIRTHDAY GIFT

In Weigle's birthday game, the boy who lit the candles was Bud Emmert of the winner Kellers team who was credited with three hits in as many times at bat. Two were home runs, once with one runner on base.

The game was one of the two played by lower division teams and turned out to be a well-balanced affair which took an extra inning to give Kellers a 9 to 8 decision over Sparky's. Much of the credit for the win goes

Tony Zale Is New Owner of NBA's Middleweight Crown Today

BY GAIL FOWLER

Seattle, July 20—(AP)—A hard-punching Polish boy from the Gary, Ind., steel mills was the new owner of the National Boxing association's middleweight championship today, and he owes his newly won bauble to a kidney punch.

Tony Zale, the handsome 26-year-old blond batterer, won the crown last night with a 13th round technical knockout over Al Hostak of Seattle. Tony weighed 158. Hostak 158½.

Hostak, with iron chin and brittle hands, had never been on the floor before, much less knocked out, but Zale floored him three not with blows to the jaw, but with deadly right-hand kidney punches which drew loud "offs" from Hostak as they landed.

Heeds Towel Waving
After Hostak went down helpless for the third time, Referee Benny Leonard, the former lightweight champion, heeded the towel waving of Hostak's manager, Eddie Marino, and stopped the slaughter.

The outcome merely continued the current confusion over who's the champion middleweight, the only change being a new male lead in the N. B. A.'s production. Ken Overlin, the Virginia ex-sailor, is also to Mills for that slap-happy hit which scored the winning tally.

Keller's Score First
Kellers scored first in the last of the second when Bud Emmert drove out his first home run to start the second half of the frame. In the third Sparky's boys took the lead when Blebert singled and scored on a hit by Thompson. Thompson went to second on an error by the catcher and kept on running to tag home on the short fielder's error.

In the fourth Sparky's increased the lead when Manager Mark Rohan led off with a home run. McNamera walked and Stewart's homer scored two more runs.

Kellers took two runs in the last of the same frame when Weigle was safe on a hit and error, went to third on Emmert's single and scored on Mills' sacrifice fly. Emmert tagged after R. Nicklaus popped up to the first baseman.

Emmert's Second Homer
Frank Nicklaus singled with one away in the last of the sixth and scored on Emmert's second home run to give the Kellers a 6 to 5 lead. In the first of the seventh the tying run was counted without a hit when Diebert was safe on the first sacker's error, went to second on a passed ball, to third on a fielder's choice and scored on Thompson's sacrifice fly to right field.

Gloom settled on the Kellers camp in the first of the extra inning when two runs scored when Bridel singled and scored on McNamera's hit. Reed walked and came in on Stewart's fly to center field.

In the last of the eighth Woolridge walked and scored on Weigle's hit. Sloan who had been safe on a fielder's choice and Weigle scored on Mills' hit. Emmert had been given an intentional walk to get at Mills.

Weigle allowed only eight hits in as many innings, walked four and struck out three.

Halligan was the losing mound and was rapped for only eight hits also and walked two and struck out three.

recognized as champion in New York and California.

Whether Zale meets Overlin "all depends on what turns up after we return east Sunday."

Zale's co-managers, Sam Flann and Art Winch, said.

The Hostak who took the whipping before some 15,000 fans last night wasn't the same Hostak who blasted his way to the title with kayoes over Freddie Steele and later over Solly Krieger.

Al Was Worried
Al was a worried boy—worried over whether his hand would hold up. He lacked confidence and his timing was off, and Zale took three of the first four rounds.

Al rained dozens of blows at Tony in the fifth to take that round, but the sturdy Zale usually wound up by taking the play away from the champion. Hostak was awarded the ninth because of a low blow, and that was the last time he had an edge.

Zale put a cut under Hostak's left eye in the sixth, and by the 10th had both the Seattle boy's peepers puffed up like red Christmas tree bulbs.

CONTENDERS IN SEMI-PRO TOURNEY HAVE DAY'S REST

Peoria, Ill., July 20—(AP)—Contenders for the state semi-pro baseball championship had an off day today in their prolonged tournament battle for the title.

Two more teams were eliminated in a pair of games last night.

Cumeford-Endsley club of Peoria handed George Evans club of Moline its second defeat of the meet, 10 to 0, thus eliminating the victims. Herman Ramer yielded only three hits to the losers.

Revolt Second
In second place with a 67 as the second 18 hole trek started was Johnny Revolta, veteran professional from Evanston, Ill., tied at 68 were Dick Metz, Chicago professional, and Willie Turnesa, the Simon-Pure from Elmford, N. Y., who won the national amateur crown in 1938. Ed Oliver of Hornell, N. Y., who was disqualified in this summer's national open battle at Cleveland, showed his 287 total there was no fluke by carding a 69—the same score as turned in by Ralph Guldahl and Johnny Bulla, both of Chicago.

Ed Wysocki of Kewanee, Ill., had a two under par 70, while three amateurs were tied at 71—George Dawson of Chicago, Alex Welsh of Rockford, Ill., and Tom Sheehan of Detroit. Three other amateurs, Wilford Wehrle of the home club, Art Andrews of Peoria, Ill., and Jack Hoerner, of Chicago, were good enough to equal par.

BIMELECH GETS ANOTHER CHANCE TO DEMONSTRATE GREATNESS AT ARLINGTON
Chicago, July 20—(AP)—Bimelech, high-ranked entrant of the venerable E. R. Bradley, has another chance today to prove his claim to turf greatness in the 12th annual running of the $50,000 Arlington Classic.

It will be the Bradley horse's first start since his victory in the Belmont stakes six weeks ago and his trainer has pronounced him ready for the mile and a quarter test against a field of five other three-year olds.

Forreston Trims Strong Galena Softball Team

The Forreston Machine Shop defeated the strong Galena Log Cabin soft ball team Thursday night by a score of 8-2. It was the Galena team's first defeat in 15 games. Cheesman was in deep trouble once in the sixth inning. Two errors filled the bases with no one out but he pulled out by getting two on strikes and having the third pop up to short.

Galena started scoring early after the first two men had struck out. Boyer's error gave Britbach life on second who scored on Ruray's single to left. Galent scored again in the fourth when Ruray hit for the circuit.

Forreston started scoring in the fifth after one was out. Smith doubled down first base line, Buss single but Smith was thrown out at the plate. Livingston singled and scored when Greer doubled left. Greer scored on two passed balls by the catcher in the sixth after two were out. Hawn walked, stole second and scored on Smith's double. In the seventh the Machinist got three more on four successive hits. Cheesman struck out 16 men and allowed three hits. Newfuss struck out 11 and gave 12 hits and passing three men.

Weekly Band Concert

Recognition is given the talent of Paul Boynton as an instrumental artist, as well as a composer, by presenting Paul as this week's soloist, as well as to place upon the program his pretentious composition for band, "Overture Militaire". This unusually gifted young man will play a delightful set of variations based upon an aria from Bellini's "La Sonnambula" adapted to clarinet by Thornton.

The "Overture Militaire" was first played by the 129th Infantry band during the 1939 summer season. Then, as on subsequent occasions, Boynton's composition has deeply impressed music-lovers and authoritative musicians with its depth and beauty. Paul is now engaged in the preparation of another overture, which will be introduced by the 129th Infantry band some time during the coming fall.

School bands would be incomplete without drum majorettes and twirlers. They add youthful dash and color to parades, football games, or, on the concert stage. A corps of skillful baton twirlers provides an irresistible attraction and every up-to-date band marches behind flashing rows of proudly stepping youngsters who perform the most amazing tricks with silvery flashing batons.

Recognizing the value of well-trained twirlers, Miss Beth Hower, director of Mount Morris school bands, has developed large groups of them in each of the communities in which she teaches and directs bands. From these groups Miss Hower has selected several expert twirlers who will demonstrate their skill as a featured attraction of the 129th Infantry band concert to be given next Saturday evening.

The twirler group will range in age from early grade to high school. Following is the program to be heard this evening at 8 o'clock:

FRANCO-BRITISH
BREAK IS THREAT TO WEST INDIES

On the sweeping chain of south Atlantic and Caribbean islands unevenly strung from the coast of Florida to the mainland of South America, anxious attention is fixed, as the former allies, Great Britain and France, are reported on the brink of possible military action in this stronghold of the Monroe Doctrine.

"French vs British colonies in the West Indies show up on the map merely as color contrasts splashed on cartographic blue," says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. "In terms of human geography, however, these interlocking islands and islets represent a far more significant variation in resources and population for the carrying on the war in its new alignments."

An "International Row" "In the 2,000-mile island curve, which starts from Britain's scattered Bahamas and ends near the Latin American republic of Venezuela, are found the three republics of Cuba, Haiti and Dominica, in addition to possessions of the United States, Great Britain, France, the Netherlands and Venezuela. The total land area of these big and little land spots is estimated at 99,000 square miles. Their population is somewhere between ten and thirteen million people."

"It is from the Lesser Antilles group, between American Puerto Rico and British Trinidad near the outflowing end of the chain, that news headlines have lately come, reporting a threatened British blockade of French Martinique, and the presence in the region of a portion of the United States fleet."

"Of this group of about a dozen fairly large islands and innumerable islets, Great Britain holds the major share, including Grenada, Barbados, St. Vincent, St. Lucia, Dominica, Antigua and St. Kitts. The islands are so spaced that England's Dominica and St. Lucia flank French Martinique on the north and south. France's other important possessions in the Lesser Antilles, Guadeloupe, is also set between British-held territories."

"Except strategically—Martinique contains one of the finest harbors in the West Indies—French possessions in this part of the world are of relatively small value in a wartime economy. Their typically tropical food products, such as sugar, coffee, cacao and bananas, are classed generally as luxuries, and as such are among the first to suffer from reduced demand during emergencies."

"Near-by British Trinidad, on the other hand, produces most of the oil found in the West Indies. At the outbreak of the war there were 16 companies boring for oil on the island. Its modern refineries, tanks and laboratories are among the world's best. In 1937 petroleum exports amounted to more than fifteen million barrels. Protecting this vital source of a wartime need is reported to be one of the first duties of the British fleet in the Caribbean."

"Trinidad is about 1,200 air miles east of the Panama Canal in an almost straight line across the northwest curve of the South American continent."

PEAS PREDOMINANT

Peas were the one absorbing subject that occupied the attention of the royal French court in 1696. They were in such vogue that discussions by nobles on the pleasures of eating peas became the main topic of conversation, and it was even fashionable for noble ladies to eat peas just before going to bed.

ALMOST EXTERMINATED

Man's greed for the plumes of the egret almost brought about the extinction of this beautiful white heron in the early part of the present century. Known to the millinery trade as "ospreys," the plumes sold for $32 an ounce. Killing of the birds now is prohibited by law, but poachers continue to destroy large numbers.

Professor Believes Northern and Southern Accents Will be Blended

Chapel Hill, N. C., July 20.—(AP)—Whether you say "you-all" or "youze guys," whether you say "honey chile" or "toots"—the radio and talking movies affect your speech.

So—partly because of the suave-tongued announcer who alleges that when the musical gong strikes it will be exactly three and one-half seconds past 12 o'clock, courtesy of tick tock watches—there may be less and less difference, in years to come, between the southern drawl and the Yankee brogue.

Perhaps, like Scarlett O'Hara's conscience, the drawl eventually will become practically null and void.

These are the views of an authority on southern speech, Prof. William A. Olsen, of the University of North Carolina's English department, who hastens to add that there will be a decided difference between northern and southern talk for a long, long time.

He also believes that if the southern accent becomes less pronounced, it will not be because southerners intentionally drop their drawl. In fact, most southerners would rather be caught wearing a hat in an elevator full of women than to talk like a northerner.

Long before Appomattox, and ever since, southerners have quipped that "you can always tell a Yankee, but can't tell him much." "And," says Professor Olsen, "if a southerner can't tell a Yankee when he sees one, he will certainly want to be able to tell one when he hears one."

Father of Dixon
Woman Honored
at Sycamore

Tuesday evening citizens of Sycamore assembled to honor William M. McAllister, father of Mrs. Floyd Chapman of this city, and well known in Dixon as well as throughout northern Illinois. A seven-ton granite stone obtained from near Fontana, Wis., upon which was placed a bronze plaque photographic reproduction of Mr. McAllister, was unveiled with fitting ceremonies. The ceremony was a public appreciation of Mr. McAllister's activities which have been of great benefit to the city of Sycamore, where he took up his residence about 45 years ago. He was the first president of the Sycamore Community park commission, a position he holds at the present time.

Editor E. D. Landers of the Ogle County Republican in an editorial in the current issue of that publication, commends the action of the residents of Sycamore as follows:

"The people of Sycamore did a most commendable thing last Tuesday when they dedicated a huge boulder in honor of William M. McAllister who for close to a half century has been one of the leading factors and the greatest booster that our neighboring county seat city has had. For many years we have watched William M. McAllister devote his time, his resources and his ability to help make Sycamore a better city, and we have often wondered if ever there might come a time when the good work of this public benefactor might be given the credit due. In every community there is one outstanding citizen who takes the lead for public improvements and advancement. In many instances the work of such leaders goes along unnoticed. The public rather feels that if such a man wishes to devote his time and ability, it is O.K. with it. Seldom does proper recognition ever come for years of hard, earnest effort to build up the community."

Mr. McAllister is entitled to every bit of credit that has been given him. He took the brunt in the early days when a through hard road was planned from Chicago to Savanna. After years of waiting and the overcoming of many problems, he has lived to see Route No. 64 paved through his home town, Sycamore and on west to the Mississippi river.

When Sycamore dedicated a marker to the works of Mr. McAllister, it did a grand thing. That he personally has ever wished for any credit above that one gains with the realization that he has accomplished something of more than ordinary importance in upbuilding the community, but rather that it proves that in the hearts of his townspeople and co-workers there is gratitude and appreciation for his long years of work.

William M. McAllister has been, and still is, a great man for Sycamore. He has never hesitated a moment when any proposition came up which was to benefit his home city, and now that some recognition has been made of his efforts, we hope other cities will perk up and follow Sycamore's lead.

Radio Will Have More Influence

The radio probably will have more influence on the southern accent than the movies, he says, because "stage diction is a separate standard" from northern, southern and western speech.

"By radio, I'm referring mainly to the boys who run the continuity and plug for patent medicines and whimsy bitsies. I don't mean the few strange birds of the air, particularly some of the new analysts, who talk like the man on the flying trapeze chewing pop-gum."

And what are some of present distinguishing features of southern speech? Here's what Professor Olsen says:

The southerner believes the "r" sound is ugly and difficult to pronounce. So "children" becomes "chillen", and "married" becomes "mad."

He doesn't think it's worth the effort to have as wide a range of vowel sounds as the northerner. So "towel" becomes "tahm," "many" becomes "minny" and "fountain pen" becomes fountain pin."

Take Less Work

Vowels that take a good deal of articulate work are dragged over toward the sounds that take less work. Sometimes a faint connecting vowel is added, thus saving what the professor believes is at least an erg of energy.

Southerners may say "paower" for "power," "hause" for "house," "axool" for "all," "haeve" for "have," "dawoog" for "dog," "own" for "on" and "caunfee" for "coffee."

Methodist Church

Paul G. Dibble, Minister
The last two Sundays of July and the first two Sundays of August are vacation Sundays in our church. Sunday school will meet as usual. There will be no worship services. The next worship service will be held on Sunday, August 18.

Your pastor suggests that you worship with other congregations during this time. Bring back new ideas for running your own church. Let your pastor have bulletins from these churches.

Have a happy vacation and come back to our services on the 18th of August, refreshed.

Baptist Church

The Baptist church announces one week of revival meetings to be conducted by the Glad Tidings Bearers of Chicago. Services will be conducted each evening July 21 to 28th at 7:45 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

This group has appeared twice before at the Baptist church and have made many friends who are loyally endeavoring to make these services a success.

"Will ye accept his person?" Job 13:8. Sunday school at 10. Morning worship at 11. Evening worship at 7:30.

Presbyterian Church

Frank A. Campbell, Minister
At a special meeting of the Presbyterian church held at the close of the morning service last Sunday, the board voted to grant the pastor, Rev. Frank A. Campbell, a leave of absence for the Sunday of July 21st and to ask Calvin Neve, Secretary of the Rochelle Chamber of Commerce, to occupy the pulpit.

This will not be a new experience for Mr. Neve, as he is an active Elder in the Presbyterian church of Nauvoo and has several times filled the pulpit of his home church. The public is cordially invited to hear this young Christian layman next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Maxson entertained Thursday, in honor of the seventy-fifth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Maxson's mother, Mrs. Jessie Adams. A son of Mrs. Adams, Charles L. Adams and family of North Hollywood, Calif. were among the twenty-five relatives present.

A chicken dinner was served at noon on the lawn, with a beautiful birthday cake holding twenty-five candles the center of attraction. During the afternoon ten members of the Past Noble Grand club surprised Mrs. Adams by calling in a group to pay their compliments. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Maxson.

Mrs. Adams received numerous lovely gifts, flowers and cards.

Fire Department Call

The fire department made a run eight and one-half miles northeast of town Thursday afternoon, to the farm known as the old Countryman place, now owned by John Boyle of DeKalb. Workmen had discovered a kiosk on fire, and called the fire squad as a precautionary measure to prevent its spread to farm buildings. No damage was reported.

Willing Workers' Meeting

The July meeting of the Willing Workers' Sunday school class of the local Evangelical church was held on Wednesday evening in the parlors of the church. Mrs. Milton Vaupel led the devotional service, and Mrs. Glenn Pfoutz, the vice president of the class, presided at the business meeting. The date of August 30 was chosen for the annual mother-daughter banquet of the class. Reservations for the banquet should be made not later than Sunday, August 25.

Interesting games provided entertainment for the evening and prizes were awarded to the winners. The twenty members present were invited to enjoy a lovely lunch at a nicely appointed table, centered by a bowl of garden flowers, tied with a dainty bow of ribbon. Pineapple sherbet, cup cakes, wafers and iced tea were served by the committee, composed of Mesdames Raymond Kersten, Klen Kendall and Clarence Sward.

Townsend Meeting

The Townsend club will hold a meeting on Tuesday evening, July 23, in the theater at 8 o'clock.
